Kennedy Bills Start To Move In Congress

Minimum Wage Hike
Heads List of OKs
Granted Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress finally has swung into high gear on several of President Ken-edy's economic and welfare measures. The Senate and House took important action on four major bills Thursday.

Two of the measures may reach
the President's desk next week.
So far the legislators have sent to him only 4 of the 16 items on the must list he submitted in February, a month after taking office. But this record will be improved soon if Kennedy can chalk up many days like Thursday.

These were the four actions:
The Senate passed 65 to 28 the minimum wage bill in almost the exact form asked by the President.

The House passed 399 to 14 an administration measure increasing a variety of Social Security benefits.

Senate-House conferees agreed
on Kennedy's $394 million depressed areas bill, and then the Senate quickly passed by voice vote the compromise version.

The Senate passed by voice vote
a bill to make available nearly $300 million in federal funds for needy children of unemployed
parents.

Sponsors of the depressed areas bill are hopeful that it can clear
the House and be sent to the White House by next Wednesday.
A hard battle is likely there,
though, because the conferees
dropped a key House financing provision and took the Senate
language making loan funds in the measure available directly through Treasury advances.

Kennedy's minimum wage bill would raise the present $1 an hour floor to $1.25 by 1963 and bring an additional 4 million workers—
mostly in large retail stores—under the act.

The House is expected to send it to conference Monday and to name a majority of conferees friendly to the Senate bill. However, it may be difficult to get the compromise through the House, which originally passed a much less comprehensive bill
than the Senate.

The bill setting up a program
of temporary benefits to needy
children with unemployed parents
does not appear to be controversial and also may go to the White House next week.

The Social Security bill passed
Thursday by the House has wide Senate support and seems certain to win eventual approval there.

But Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., the Finance Committee chairman,
said his group might not take it up for about 10 days.

This measure would let men retire at 62 under Social Security, increase widows' benefits, make about 160,000 additional persons eligible for payments, and raise the minimum benefit from $33 to $40 a month. It would be financed by a 1/4 of 1 per cent tax increase on employer and employee effective Jan. 1.

Another item on the 16 points,
a federal judgeship bill, was sent to conference by the Senate
Thursday after clearing the House
Wednesday.

The Senate voted for 73 new judges, the House 70. The differences are expected to be settled quickly.

Finch, Tregoff Taken to Prisons

LOS ANGELES (AP)—County jail today was inmates—Dr. R.
Bernard Finch and his red-haired mistress Carole Tregoff.

The pair, convicted of the ambush murder of the once wealthy doctor's wife, Barbara, Thursday
were taken separately to begin serving life sentences.

Finch, 43, went to the California Institute for Men at Chino.
Miss Tregoff, 24, was driven to the California Institution for Women at Corona.

They will be eligible for parole
in seven years.

Circleville Gets Largest Share of Tax Distribution

Circleville received the largest share of distribution for the settlement of tax monies here for February.

Pickaway County Auditor Mar-
vine H. Rhoades today released a financial statement of the February distribution. She said checks have been mailed to county
political subdivisions.

Circleville Corporation received a net distribution of $54,859.86, as its share of the semi-annual settlement.

Other corporations and amounts received were: Williamsport, $1-720.18; Ashville, $5,734.25; Harrisburg, $7.77; South Bloomfield, $298-11; Darbyville, $22.81; New Holland, $1,661.26; Tarlton, $96.57;
Commercial Point, $91; Orient
Village, $16.77.

Eichmann Denies Playing Role In Extermination of Jews

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf
Eichmann told Israeli questioners that those Jews regarded as "the germ cell of Jewish rehabilitation" were to be specially marked for death his tape-recorded testimony disclosed in court today.

But the former SS officer said that this was not his idea, and he repeatedly denied that he had anything to do with the executions during World War II.

Eichmann, on trial in Jerusalem for "crimes against the Jewish people and crimes against humanity" during the war, was interrogated for more than eight months before the hearings began. His words were recorded on tape and the tapes are being re-
played in court now.

"The germ of rehabilitation," it developed, meant those Jews
strong enough to survive the ordeal of the slave labor camps and potentially capable of pro-
creating "a new Jewish development."

This was brought up during the Wannsee conference in Berlin
January 20, 1942, when Reinhard
Heydrich, one of Eichmann's immediate superiors, told those present that Adolf Hitler had ordered "the final solution of the Jewish question"—and that this meant extermination.

Capt. Avner Less of the Israeli police questioned Eichmann about
the conference and this exchange
was recorded:

Less: "What does this mean
here, 'These Jews must be treated appropriately'?"

Eichmann: "Killed, killed, certainly."

Less pointed out during the questioning that the Nazi plan envisioned the eventual extermination of all Jews. He used the word "your plan" in this passage.

"Not my plan," Eichmann

Poetic Thieves Leave Message for Farmer

FRANKLIN, Ohio (AP)—Russell
Heiler, a farmer who lives on Franklin - Springboro Road near

U.S. Asks Latin Nations For Advice on Cuba Crisis

Cuban Rebels Say New Landing Set

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Undertaken by one defeat on Cuban beaches, from 500 to 1,500
fresh guerrillas are sailing in the direction of Cuba, exile sources
in Florida declared today.

The original force that struck
the southern coast of Cuba Monday has been variously reported at from 500 to 1,000 men. How many escaped into the mountains
is not known.

Both sides admitted severe casualties in the fighting. Various roundabout reports from Cuba
have said from 350 to 500 prisoners were taken by Fidel Castros forces.

A British correspondent in Havana said there were uncomfirmed reports in the somber capital that thousands were killed
on the invasion beachhead about 100 miles southeast of the capital.

The rebel radio on Swan Island
off the coast of Central America
asserted without confirmation from any other source that new but small landings already had been made in Cuba.

The Cuban radio charged Monday's invaders arrived in "North American military transports"
escorted by "Yankee destroyers"
after being trained by U. S. officers in Guatemala.

The broadcast said the story
was told by prisoners captured on the beach. Among them is the son of Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, head of the rebel movement in the United States, Havana asserted.

Exile leaders in New York said
a son of Miro Cardona was in the landing.

The insurgent "army of liberation" answered this charge of U. S. intervention by declaring that the Soviet Union, Red China
and Communist Czechoslovakia
were actively aiding Fidel Castro's forces.

Denying claims by the Cuban government that not a single in-vader made it into the interior,
the insurgent broadcast said the
"army of liberation" is firmly entrenched in the Escambray Mountains of central Cuba and is ready to fight to victory.

Then the broadcast added:
"The fight is hard. It is not easy to defeat the traitors, who are operating with the intervention of Russia, China and Czechoslovakia."

How many invaders may have made it into the mountains to join up with anti-Castro guerrillas is a matter of conjecture.
Cuban exile sources in Miami,
Fla., say about 1,000 fighters went ashore. Roundabout Communist reports put total prisoners
at 500.

In support of its claim that the invasion was the work of "Yankee mercenaries," Havana radio
said prisoners told of being flown
from the United States to a camp
in Guatemala. They were quoted as saying they were trained there by 25 instructors from "the Yankee army."

The Havana broadcast said the President Holds Mum on Detail Of Conferences

Reporters Unable To Get Elaboration
On Thursday Speech

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy announced today that the U. S. is consulting with other Americans states on the crisis in Cuba.

But he declined at a news conference to discuss the situation
further at this time despite repeated questioning by newsmen.

One after another he turned inquiries aside though at one point
he said bluntly that he was obviously the responsible officer of the U. S. government.

Questions on Cuba did lead the President into discussing several related issues. He made these points:

1. The greatest need of the United States and its allies today is to give "all our attention and all our energies" to devising effective means for combatting Communist guerrilla warfare, subversion and the like.

2. Kennedy wants to continue the nuclear test ban negotiations
at Geneva even though he is discouraged by Russia's demand for a veto over enforcement machinery. The President said agreement in negotiations becomes more difficult when one side presses its aims (as in Cuba) with great vigor.

3. The effect of the Cuban and Laotian crises on Kennedy's effort to improve relations with Russia
through quiet diplomacy is not clear at the moment. Questioned specifically about whether he was moving away from his three-months-old policy of quiet diplomacy, Kennedy said he did not want to answer the question just now.

On the diplomatic front his immediate objective apparently is to develop backing among the nations of the Western Hemisphere
for a stronger stand against the pro-Communist Castro government of Cuba than they have so far been willing to take.

A meeting of inter-American foreign ministers is being discussed in diplomatic quarters here. By a two-thirds vote, such a meeting could call for political and economic sanctions against Cuba.

On the home front, Kennedy evidently is seeking to provide a basis of bipartisan political support for his policy.

In a major policy address Thursday to the American Society of Newspaper Editors, the President left no doubt that he considers the situation dangerous and the prospects grim.

In the speech he opened the possibility that if Communist penetration in Cuba became a threat to the security of the United States he would be prepared to order direct intervention even without the cooperation and agreement of the allied nations

U.S. Seeks First Landing on Moon

WASHINGTON (AP)—President
Kennedy said today the United States may lag behind Russia in space for the next 10 years but is bending every effort to become
first to the moon.

The President at his news conference studiously avoided questions about Cuba and the speech
he made Thursday saying the United States would not hesitate to act alone against communism
in this hemisphere if necessary to protect its own security.

He described this as a major problem for a decade ahead.

Kennedy said his administration would carefully consider venturing into new space projects to determine "whether a real success can be achieved or whether we are so far behind now in this particular race we are going to be second in this decade."

Kennedy said the Saturn vehicle, the Nova and Rover projects
are being speeded up with additional funds and that the government will spend about $2 billion
on space next year.

But he said the Saturn would not get us to the moon and declared: "We have to consider whether there is any program
now regardless of its cost which offers us hopes of being pioneers
in a project."

Saturn is the U. S. project of building a more powerful rocket.
Nova contemplates a cluster of Saturn rockets. Rover is a project to build a nuclear rocket.

This was the President's 10th
news conference and 402 newsmen turned out. It was a closed meeting—taped for later broadcast or telecast.

The President announced at the outset that he would stand on his speech Thursday regarding Cuba and would accept no questions on that explosive subject.

He said the government was making every effort on behalf of individuals who may be in danger
because of the tense situation in Cuba.

These other matters came up:

eryone strongly concerned about

Cancer Drug Headed for Federal Tests

CHICAGO (AP) — A federal judge, in a move to determine the medical value of the controversial cancer drug Krebiozen,
has declared a mistrial in a $350,- 000 libel suit.

Judge Julius H. Miner of U. S.
District Court said Thursday his action was the simplest way to postpone the trial until testing of the drug is completed by a federal agency. He ruled that Krebiozen's medical value is the center of the case and he had asked for the test.

Abraham A. Ribicoff, secretary of health, education and welfare,
earlier agreed to have the National Cancer Institute, division
of his agency, conduct the test.

It has been estimated the testing would take three months to a year. Ribicoff said data submitted must include clinical experience with the drug during the past 10 years.

Judge Miner set Sept. 14 as the date for a new trial, but said he would extend the date if the institute needed more time. He granted Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, plaintiff in the suit and sponsor of the drug, two months to provide the institute with full information.

Ivy, chairman of the department of clinical science of the University of Illinois, asks for $350,000 for damages he said he suffered as a result of a book
written by Dr. George D. Stoddard in 1955. Ivy said the book,
"Krebiozen: The Great Cancer Mystery," was written with intent to destroy his professional stature.

Firm Hand of Red Discipline May Now Hold Castro

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The news
from Havana today suggests that the hand of discipline has been applied with the aim of smothering the last breath of political resistance by coldly methodical methods imported from the Communist police states.

The developments hint at the possibility that the Soviet Embassy has informed the Cuban regime of Moscow's waning impatience with the Cuban government's wild disorganization.

When Fidel Castro finally is in position to raise the ever-ready voice which has not yet been heard on the airwaves since the invasion began, he may find himself in the unaccustomed role of figurehead and front for a government which has been taken over
in all but name by the disciplined Communists.

Since Sunday, Castro's voice has not been heard. Cubans have been told he is at the battlefield.

There has been no word of the other ranking leaders—Castro's
fanatical younger brother Raul,
who heads the armed forces;
Ernesto Guevara, the Communist boss of the economy; Antonio Nunez Jimenez, the powerful and ruthless head of the Agrarian Reform Department.

The regime's radio continues to promise over and over a huge rally for May Day, which has been appropriated by the Communist world for propaganda spectacles, hinting that the chiefs of the Castro revolution will be on hand to preside.

May Day is 10 days away,
which could afford time for organization for the Communist bloc's swarm of diplomats, technicians
and advisers to entrench themselves behind the scene and demand the sort of order Moscow
gets from its satellite regimes.

There was supposed to be a big victory celebration rally Thursday in Havana. The Cuban government radio announced it. But there was no rally. Some time between the announcement early in the day and the scheduled hour,
9 p. m., it was canceled.

A rally without Castro to whip
it into a frenzy with his marathon
oratory would have looked strange to his fanatical followers. Indeed, it would be difficult for any other personality in the regime to hold a huge crowd for long without the expectation that he would be on hand.

One would have expected, in the circumstances, that a rally would be the first order of business if the Castro regime was the master of its own destiny. But there was business to be taken care of first,
and apparently there were business-like people about to insist that it be attended to before turning to another of the spectacles for which Castro has been famous.

of this hemisphere.
Kennedy virtually conceded in his speech to the editors that the invasion, which had the moral support of the U. S. government, had proved a severe disappointment to officials here. He said the news from Cuba has grown "worse instead of better." He also said that if the United States ever had to intervene directly it would not "expect or accept the same outcome which this small band of gallant Cuban refugees must have known they were achieving."
Drawing some "useful lessons" from what he called "this sobering episode," Kennedy warned against underestimating Communist forces in Cuba or anywhere else in the world.
Obviously directing his words to other American nations, he said it is their security which is in peril.
Then going beyond Cuba Kennedy said "it is clearer than ever that we face a relentless struggle in every corner of the globe." This struggle, he added, uses military power not for direct action but as a shield behind which to employ "subversion, infiltration, and a host of other tactics" for the conquest of vulnerable areas.
Officials said that they were sure U. S. ambassadors abroad would call the President's speech to the attention of high authorities in Allied governments. They also expected the implicit warning of an increasingly tougher U. S. policy to be noted—and perhaps carefully considered—by Soviet leaders in Moscow.

For the time being administration informants were not sure what precise steps would be taken to follow up the "alert" as one authority put it, which Kennedy had sounded in his address.
Several informants said that the possibility of again raising the Cuban issue in a high level inter-American conference has been informally talked about but is not yet under formal consideration and is still without decision.
Last August a meeting of foreign ministers at San Jose, Costa Rica, could agree only on a resolution deploring foreign intervention in the Western Hemisphere. The United States was defeated in its efforts to get a denunciation of the Cuban regime specifically.
Last January, when the Eisenhower administration broke relations with Cuba, Washington officials hoped that within a matter of weeks anti-Castro sentiment would build up among Latin-American countries to such a degree that a condemnation of the Cuban regime would become possible. But this hope was not realized.
The basic difficulty, diplomatic officials said, is that in many countries Castro has been regarded by large numbers as a popular revolutionary hero. His popularity has served to restrain action even by governments which themselves strongly disapprove his Communist ties.
Administration authorities discounted speculation which developed here Thursday following Kennedy's speech that his talk about direct U. S. intervention meant any early action against Cuba. They said that resistance to the Castro government by rebel forces will continue.
They did not rule out the possibility that another invasion operation of the kind which evidently failed to achieve its primary objectives this week might be mounted by the Cuban Revolutionary Council at some future time.

Pickaway Included In Highway Bids

The Ohio State Highway Department will accept sealed bids Tuesday on seven projects for central Ohio, two of them in Pickaway County.

The Pickaway projects include the replacement of 30 existing culverts on Route 38 with pipe-type culverts. The other calls for 15.1 miles of resurfacing on Route 104 from Route 22 north to the Franklin County line.

There are 55 projects throughout the State scheduled in Tuesday's big openings. Estimated value of the entire slate is about $15 million, including right of way and engineering.

Exceptional Children Council Hears Talk by Ross Teacher

Harry Hamer, Chillicothe, was guest speaker at last night's meeting of the Pickaway County Council for Exceptional Children. Eighteen persons attended the session at the Presbyterian Church.

Hamer, a teacher and director of the Ross County Council for Retarded Children, based his talk on "The Program of Community Classes from the Local and State Level."

The speaker added interest by showing displays of children's school work from his class in Chillicothe. Using the work as reference, he discussed the various capabilities of his students.

Hamer closed his informative talk by saying the three R's for re-

WASHINGTON (AP) — "When you strike at a king," Emerson said, "you must kill him."

If Fidel Castro is truly badly damaged, perhaps mentally, as some Cuban rebel reports say he was during an invasion bombing, then the anti-Castroites may have succeeded just as they were conceding their assault had fizzled.

Castro is the cement which holds his regime together, the rallying point for both his supporters among the masses and those close to him. If he's out of the way, Cuba may fall into disorder.

Because of that very possibility it is extraordinary, from a revolutionary standpoint, that an attempt was not made to kill Castro just before the invasion began. Maybe it was.

But in the meantime President Kennedy—who helped the rebel invaders with moral support, if nothing else—suffered damage in Western Europe and no doubt in the Communist and other no-Communist parts of the world.

If the invasion was truly a failure—as reports indicate—then it appears to have been badly timed, poorly organized, and clumsily conceived.

Since nothing succeeds like success, if the invasion had overthrown Castro then foreign criticism of American support for the rebels might have receded, provided Castro's successors didn't set up a reactionary dictatorship instead.

Editorial writers from Sweden to Italy, including some in Britain, were critical of Kennedy's handling of the Cuban crisis. Almost all European journals brushed aside Washington's disclaimer of U. S. complicity in the invasion.

It seems reasonable to believe—if Castro has survived and his government has really smashed the attempt to unseat him—that Communist sympathy in Latin America and backward areas of the world will get a lift for this reason:

Castro was armed with Communist weapons and, according to reports, had the help of Red satellite technicians in training his forces for just such an event as the attempt to overthrow him.

And the failure of the invasion against this Communist citadel only 90 miles from the United States is hardly likely to strengthen the will to resist among American allies in Southeast Asia so

An Old Order

Except for an occasional one born in a taxi or a police cruiser, most modern babies begin their lives in hospitals. But of course it was not always so. In Toronto, Ont., the Women's College Hospital is trying to locate the first baby born there after it opened its maternity wing doors half a century ago.

The baby was a girl, and hospital officials would like the now middle-aged lady to be a guest of honor at its 50th anniversary celebrations this year. Six years after her birth, hospital records were lost in a flood. Few mothers went to hospitals to have their babies in those days and at Women's College Hospital a clothes basket was borrowed from the housekeeper and the baby wrapped in a sheet.

One of the principal differences between then and now is in the relationship between the doctor and the one who doesn't have to be hospitalized at all, under normal conditions: the father-to-be. In the old days at home, the doctor in charge gave him a terse order: "Boil some water!"

The cry is sometimes heard even yet, if only on teevee shows about life on the western frontier. But when the modern husband hears it, he shuffles toward the electric kettle with a sigh of obedience, knowing it means nothing more startling than that his wife wants a cup of tea.

How To Spot a Married Man

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—You can bet a man is probably married if— His wallet bulges with family photos instead of money.

He breaks into hollow laughter whenever someone asks, "Anybody here got change for a $5 bill?"

The same woman gives him lunch money every day. Or, if the briefcase he carries to work in the morning contains a sandwich and a piece of cake.

He has a guilty look if a pretty blonde stops him on the sidewalk to ask a direction.

In a supermarket he puts into his shopping cart a package of detergent, six cans of dog food, 12 boxes of breakfast cereals and a packet of bird seed.

Every year or so he goes around with a haunted expression asking, "Do you know anyone who would like to give a nice home to anywhere from one to six kittens that don't even have their eyes open yet?"

He gets periodical phone calls at the office in which his only part of the conversation consists of "Yes," "Uh huh," "Well, if you say so," and "Okay, dear."

Buying a new lawnmower interests him more than spending a day at a racetrack.

He laughs loudest when ever anyone tells a mother-in-law joke.

On rainy days he always wears rubbers or carries an umbrella; in winter he is always bundled up—as if by someone who didn't want to lose him.

He never gets a letter that smells of perfume, and if he did it would scare him half to death.

He can rarely discuss a new first run movie being shown at a downtown theater, but he is an authority on all the old films that inhabit television.

He always asks to have his vacations when school is out.

Pausing before the window of a travel agency, he looks yearningly at the posters of the places farthest from where he lives — preferably those showing life in Tahiti.

He shines his own shoes and, as often as not, they look like they need a shine.

The personal drawer in his office desk contains aspirin, a bottle of soda mint tablets, some unpaid bills.

He never opens his check on payday. He simply puts it in his mouth and heads for home.

By these signs you can tell him — the happy married man, backbone of civilization.

Republican Party Is Split

By George Sokolsky

At this moment, the Republican Party is split into four factions:

1. There are those who still believe that Richard Nixon can make a come-back in 1964, provided he makes a lot of speeches between now and then;

2. The Rockefeller machine is in high gear operation; however, Nelson Rockefeller has to be re-elected Governor of New York State in 1962. This involves a very complex political situation, because the Democrats in New York are split over the question of the leadership of Carmine DeSapio, the Tammany Lass. Should Mayor Wagner be defeated in 1961, Rockefeller will be safer; in 1962, Rockefeller, thus far represents a New Deal liberalism, alien to the Republican Party. What will happen to his political posture should he face John Kennedy in 1964, it is difficult to say. Rockefeller may find no better excuse for running than that he agrees with Kennedy but is more able — a boast that is always suspect;

3. Senator Barry Goldwater has built an enormous following for himself, not only among Republicans but among no-party conservatives. An element of this following might be called McCarthyite. Goldwater is the first Republican to have cracked the intellectual hard shell of the universities; not even Robert A. Taft succeeded in doing that. This generation of youngsters knew not Roosevelt and are not influenced by the excitement of the 1930's;

4. There is a large element of older Republicans who have ceased to be partisans. They are Republicans because they are such, but they vote or do not vote depending upon whether the candidate is significant. Such Republicans fell away from Nixon because of his television speeches; they dislike Rockefeller because he does not belong; they are not sure that they understand Goldwater. In a word, they are very uncertain as to where to go and many of them join crackpot organizations as a demonstration of principle.

It will take the Republican Party more leadership than it now possesses to amalgamate all these different factions into a strong political party. No Republican program is presently possible.

What does Senator Styles Bridges have in common with Senator Jacob Javits? Bridges moves within the margins of Republican tradition; Javits is an individualist who runs all over the map without a compass.

In a word, the Republican Party is now so split and riddled that it requires reorganization not only in ideas but in personnel. The greatest advantage of Robert A. Taft's leadership was that he managed to keep together those who called themselves Republicans. There is no one like Taft among Republicans today.

Perhaps the most surprising factor in this situation is the complete elimination of former President Eisenhower from even a semblance of leadership. He is not consulted by an appreciable element in the party. He exerts no influence upon any significant following among Republicans. He has served as President for eight years and has left a small mark on the sands of time. Of him, it can be said that he kept us out of war but at what a price! By 1964, Eisenhower is not likely to have the influence in the Republican Party that Herbert Hoover exercises now, nearly 30 years after he was defeated.

The Republicans do not have too much time. They are now depending on President Kennedy's failure in solving the problems of unemployment, of the value of the dollar, and in the conduct of the foreign policy. But what if President Kennedy should not fail? Having no program except another man's failure is like living in a dead man's shoes.

A political party needs more than the negative attitude of hating that the party in power will fail. If the Republicans could build a conservative program for the country, a logical, a philosophic concept of American life, it would have value, but a party without belief, without ideas, without aspirations except to get jobs for the politicians, is not good enough.

And there is so little time left. The United States needs two parties — a single party, long in power, is intolerable, an opposition party exists to oppose by having on alternative program. Have the Republicans an alternative program to what is sloganized as the New Frontier? During the last campaign, the Republican Platform was an absurd document which was not even supported by the candidates in their speeches. The party of Lincoln should have been able to do better than that.

OU Requests Change In Television Channel

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communications Commission says it will consider a proposal to assign television channel 20 to Athens, Ohio, for educational use. Channel 62 now is available in Athens, but Ohio University, which plans to apply for an educational station there, would prefer to operate a station on a lower numbered channel to provide wider coverage.

"S-s-s-h!" urged the proprietor in a conspiratorial whisper. "He thinks he's learning English!"

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Can a new baby develop outside a womb? What happens?

Each month a female egg cell leaves its ovary home and wanders down a tiny tube towards the womb. If the egg cell meets a male sperm cell in the tube they unite to make a child.

The fertilized egg cell begins to grow, even though it won't reach the waiting womb for three days. It may be delayed by scars from old infections or operations or by side roads which are mistaken for the main thoroughfare. The tube may be pinned beneath a tiny insignificant tumor.

By the third day, the fertilized egg is bursting with hunger. It has to dig in and grow roots or starve, and so the cells burrow into the tube wall. Immediately, large blood vessels spring up to pour in the needed nourishment.

Special X-rays can outline these vessels to reveal this wrong prenatal address.

Menstrual cycles stop, the womb swells and Mom thinks she's expecting. An occasional one-sided pain can't cloud her happiness now!

But something has to give, as Baby grows inside a tube no larger than your little finger. He may break loose and flow upstream until he finds a "perfect" prenatal oasis inside the abdomen. Here, occasionally, he lives long enough to be born.

But usually the wrong prenatal address means no delivery. Mother miscarries. But unlike the usual miscarriage, the bleeding is clot-free when the womb sheds its lining.

Sometimes the growing baby breaks through the tube wall, ripping open large blood vessels to cause dangerous bleeding. Mother feels a sharp tearing pain before this internal hemorrhage swells her abdomen and threatens her life.

Blood transfusions and emergency surgery can save her, but not the tube.

Check with your doctor whenever you suspect you're expecting. He may help you avoid dangerous complications.

In the prenatal world, there's no address-finder like a good obstetrician!

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Double taxation? Or a special windfall for the wealthy?

That's the argument that swirls around President Kennedy's proposal to tax dividends in full and to withhold 20 per cent of the payment at source to be sure of getting the tax.

There are about 15 million Americans who own stocks. Almost all get dividend checks and the rest wish they did.

In the first three months of this year corporations paid out $3.5 billion in cash dividends, a bit more than a year ago. Total payments tend to grow steadily, even during recessions.

But in attacking present laws granting partial deductions for tax purposes, the President declares: "About 80 per cent of it (dividend income) accrues to that 6.5 per cent of taxpayers whose incomes exceed $10,000 a year. He says that persons with incomes below $5,000 a year get only about 10 per cent of total dividend payments.

His argument is that exempting part of dividend receipts from income tax payments largely benefits the more affluent minority. He adds that repeal of this tax exemption would benefit the Treasury by $450 million a year.

Present revenue laws exclude for taxable income the first $50 of dividends received. The tax payer then can claim a credit of 4 per cent on amounts above this $50 a year.

The partial exemptions were set up in 1954 after President Dwight D. Eisenhower brought up the big arguments against taxing dividends at all:

1. That this is double taxation, since dividends are paid out of company earnings after these

Preacher Withholds Taxes Tagged for War

NORTH BEND, Ore. (AP)—The Rev. and Mrs. William Walker filed their federal income tax return in proper form—but sent only 45 per cent of the money due. They estimated the 55 per cent they did not remit represented money for future or past wars.

In Portland, Internal Revenue Service officials said the full tax would be collected.

have already been taxed up to 52 per cent.

2. That dividend taxation discourages investment, because it may keep some people from putting their savings in stocks. Also this tax (like all income tax payments to some extent) hampers building up funds that normally would be invested in new enterprises or in expansion of old ones.

President Kennedy says that the present partial exemptions "serve neither purpose well. He says "the broader question of tax rates applicable to high incomes should be examined next year in a general tax reform measure.

Social Sorority Prepares for Sock Hop

Beta Kappa Chapter of Sigma Phi Gamma Sorority met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Roselyn Eccard with President Eleanor Moon presiding.

Following roll call and minutes, Miss Barbara Caskey presented several suggested improvements for the "Miss Pumpkin Show" parade, which the sorority sponsors.

These suggestions were discussed but final action was postponed until later in the year when it could best be determined whether or not these ideas would be feasible.

Final arrangements were made for the Sock Hop, to be held Saturday, at the Fairgrounds Coliseum. The following committees were appointed: Tickets, Mrs. Eccard; Margaret Goode, and Barbara Caskey; Decorations, Jane Stevenson and Agnes Jester; Refreshments, Mary Ellen Rader.

All members are to meet at the Coliseum to help with decorations at 1:00 p. m. Saturday.

Next meeting will be held on May 10 in the home of Mrs. Agnes Jester. Election of officers will be held at this time.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Anything Within Reason

DEAR ABBY: I am ten years old and my Daddy said that when I saved enough money I could buy anything I wanted with it.

All my life I have wanted a monkey. I have saved $13. I asked my Daddy if I could buy a pet monkey and he said no, because I wouldn't know how to take care of it. My Mom is the fussy type. You know, everything has to be just so. Do you know anyone who has had a pet monkey, and can give me some advice?

WANTS A MONKEY

DEAR WANTS: I have had TWO pet monkeys (David and Bathsheba) and, although I love monkeys, your father is right. To quote my son (he was 4 at the time), "Monkeys should live with monkeys, and people should live with people."

DEAR ABBY: I have been engaged to Roy for two years. I am 19 and he is 23. He already has everything bought for our home. Electric range, washer and dryer, refrigerator and TV.

Here is my problem. I am no longer sure of my love for him. I believe I have merely gotten used to him. I used to feel a light zingy feeling in my head when he would kiss me. Now I don't feel anything at all. When we are together I don't know what to talk about. He is hard-working, considerate and has no bad habits, so when I try to put my finger on what is missing in my feeling for him, I can't do it. My mother says I have the "bride's jitters" and I should go ahead and marry Roy. Should I?

BRIDE'S JITTERS
DEAR BRIDE: Your mother doesn't have to live with Roy—you do. If you feel that "something is missing," depend on it—something is. Don't marry any man unless you KNOW you want to spend the rest of your life with him.

DEAR ABBY: If you use my letter, please do not use my name. Put me down as "BRAINGLESS." What can I do about a neighbor who asked me if she could use my telephone and, out of the kindness of my heart, I let her, and now I am stuck. She made 58 outside calls and my telephone

Mrs. K. Hannan Will Attend Convention

Mrs. Kenneth R. Hannan, 574 N. Pickaway St., District No. 4 Alumnae Chairman for Alpha Phi International Fraternity, will be attending District 4 West Convention, Friday in Lansing, Mich., and Michigan State day on Saturday, also at Lansing.

Beta Beta Chapter of Alpha Phi at Michigan State College will act as hostess to both affairs.

Alpha Phi International Fraternity has 74 chapters with the last being pledged in Adrian, Mich.

Mrs. Hannan will preside over the alumnae work shops at the Convention and the State Day.

Child Study Club Elects Officers

Officers were elected at the meeting of the Child Study Club recently in the home of Mrs. Paul Brobst, Atwater Ave.

Mrs. Brobst conducted the business meeting. New officers elected were:

Mrs. George Lawson, president; Mrs. Charles Kirkpatrick, vice president; Mrs. Richard Funk, treasurer; Mrs. Ned Dresbach, secretary; and Mrs. Gladden Troutman, corresponding secretary.

The program was called "Physical Fitness" with Mrs. M. Evans from the Circleville High School giving illustrations of different exercises. Different reducing machines were available for the groups use.

Mrs. Brobst served a fruit salad which contained less than 100 calories to the group.

The next meeting will be held May 15, at the Fox Farm.

Church Group Makes Plans for Bowling

The Presbyterian Young Adult Group will meet Sunday night at 7:30 p. m. for bowling at Prairie Lanes.

Afterwards the group will assemble at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald C. Spence, 1010 N. Court St., for refreshments and the business meeting.

Officers for the coming year will be elected.

Falls Still Charm

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (AP) — Niagara Falls hasn't lost its charm for the traveller, according to the Niagara Parks Commission. In its annual report to the Ontario Provincial Legislature, the Commission said two million automobiles and six million people passed through the parks in 1960.

Also elected at the 66th annual convention here were George B. Quatman, Telephone Services, Inc. re-elected executive vice-president and secretary-treasurer.

Veteran Phone Aide

To Head Association

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A veteran of 45 years in the telephone business has been elected president of the Ohio Independent Telephone Association.

Howard Wright, who has been a member of the O.I.T.A. board of directors for five years, succeeds Robert D. Gott as the association's 23rd president. Wright is with the Ashtabula Telephone Company.

Also elected at the 66th annual convention here were George B. Quatman, Telephone Services, Inc. re-elected executive vice-president and secretary-treasurer.

IT'S FOR YOU

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

When someone says, "It's for you," our minds begin to buzz with questions. Who is it? What do they want? Good News? Bad News? Work? Pleasure?

It's for you! Commanding words that summon our immediate attention. And those words apply as well to the Church as they do to a telephone call.

The Church is for you! Its services of worship, its program of religious education, its comforting ministration in time of spiritual crisis . . . all for you!

And the Church has a vital message—good news for a discouraged world. It has a glorious work before it—a happy fellowship for men, women, and children of noble purpose.

The Church deserves your support. It's for you!

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

An eastward-moving cold front extending from Lake Superior southward across Illinois was responsible for showers and scattered thundershowers during the night and this morning.

Southerly winds brought warmer air to all sections of the state, with early morning readings ranging from 47 at Youngstown to 60 at Cincinnati and Chesapeake. Toledo had 50, Columbus 52.

The cold front will continue to move eastward across Ohio tonight and Saturday morning. Showers and scattered thundershowers will end over the northern section tonight, and central and southern sections Saturday morning and afternoon.

Warm temperatures will prevail in the southern section through Saturday, with a little cooler weather spreading in the north portion tonight, and central portion Saturday.

OHIO FIVE-DAY FORECAST
NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average 6 - 10 degrees above normal. Normal high 60-61, normal low 38-42. Cooler Saturday, warmer Monday and Tuesday, cooler Wednesday. Precipitation will average one-quarter to one-half inch in showers tonight and again Tuesday or Wednesday.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average about 5 degrees above normal. Normal high 63-65, normal low 41-45. A little cooler Saturday, warmer Monday, cooler again by Wednesday. Precipitation will average 3 to 6 inch as showers and scattered thundershowers tonight and Saturday and again about Monday night and Tuesday.

When Human Wisdom Fails

AN ILLUSTRATION OF HOW SINCERE MEN SOMETIMES DRAW THE WRONG CONCLUSIONS REGARDING THE EXPERIENCES OF OTHERS WHO ARE SUFFERING PAIN, LOSS OR REVERSES.

Scripture—Job 4:1-9; 8:1-10; 11:1-20; 21; 37:14-24.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

LAST WEEK'S lesson ended with the good Job mourning over the tragic death of his seven sons and three daughters, when a terrible storm hit the house where they were feasting.—Job 1:1-19.

GOLDEN TEXT

"The fear of the Lord, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil is understanding."—Job 28:28.

His three friends, Eliphaz, Bildad and Zophar, stayed with him for seven days and nights to comfort him.—Job 2:11-13. Eliphaz, the Temanite, was the first to speak, saying, "Behold, thou hast instructed many, and thou hast strengthened the weak hands. Thy words have upheld him that was falling, and thou hast strengthened the feeble knees. But now it is come upon thee, and thou faintest; it is based on, and thought out by the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., and used by permission.

cent? or where were the righteous cut off?"—Job 4:1-7. But Job had not sinned. When the three friends had failed to help Job, a fourth, named Elihu, came. He reminded Job that for all the good things he knew, including life itself, he must thank God. "Hearken unto this, O Job: stand still, and consider the wondrous works of God."—Job 37:14.

Pentagon's Public Relations Budget Still Is Rather High

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's taking about 460 men and $1.6 million to handle the Pentagon's public relations this year.

A lot of money in everyday terms, although the outlay has been diminishing slowly for several years.

Whether the flow of information from the Pentagon has also diminished is a matter that is being debated.

The Freedom of Information Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) has submitted a critical report and aimed mostly at the State and Defense departments.

Involved is the Kennedy administration's freedom of information policies. Newsmen also had complained of restrictive policies under the administration of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The newspapers editors' committee contended Tuesday that Kennedy was on record "as believing in freedom of information and in his duty to see that the people are informed."

But, the report said, "neither he nor his administration has lived up to his promises."

The White House, in a letter from news secretary Pierre Salinger, said the committee's statement was inaccurate.

The President, he said, expects only information bearing on national security to be withheld "and would welcome reports of any violations of that policy."

Much of the information bearing on national security, of course, develops in the Pentagon.

The Pentagon public relations budget has been diminishing slowly for several years—chiefly as the result of ceilings put on expenditures by Congress. The pending budget for next fiscal year will trim the figure a little more.

The $1.6 million being spent during the fiscal year ending next June 30 isn't all the military spends for public relations. It covers the operations at headquarters in Washington. It does not include public relations operations carried on by the services outside Washington. This could bring the total "PR" bill near the $2 million mark.

Cleveland-Youngstown Firms Plan To Merge

CLEVELAND (AP) — Directors of Diamond Alkali Co. announced at the company's annual meeting Thursday that they have approved "in principle" an agreement to merge with Bessemer Limestone & Cement Co. of Youngstown. Raymond F. Evans, Diamond Alkali board chairman and president, said approval of stockholders will be sought soon.

Evans reported company earnings for the first quarter of 1961 declined to $2,097,000, or 69 cents a share, from $2,868,000, or 96 cents a share a year ago. Net sales dropped to $31,299,000 from $32,992,000.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twelve Ohio high school students have won awards in the 10th annual Future Scientists of America program sponsored by the National Science Teachers Association.

Robert H. Carleton, executive secretary of the National Science Teachers Association, announced the winners today.

Ohioans include: James Brasumus, 7th grade, Chesterland Junior High School, Chesterland; Carol West 7th grade, Mt. Vernon Junior High School, Mt. Vernon; John Knox, 9th grade, Denzell Junior High School, Findlay and Robert Fugate, 12th grade, Belmont High School, Dayton.

Seventh and 8th grade winners received $25 savings bonds, 9th and 10th, $50, and 11th and 12th, $75.

Trumbull Park District Set To Improve Lake

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—A Trumbull County Metropolitan Park District, improving the Mosquito Lake shoreline and recreational facilities, was established Thursday by Probate Judge Charles Anderson. Mosquito Lake had been operated by the Ohio Division of Parks.

The family meal contest, sponsored by General Electric distributors, Bard, Inc. and the Ohio-Midland Light and Power Co., was held this week in Carroll, O.

The contest served to stimulate interests of home economics students in meal planning and cooking.

Miss Beavers is a student of Mrs. Herbert W. Barrett, Scioto Twp. School home economics teacher. Mrs. Barrett accompanied the winner on the trip to Carroll.

KEEPING THE HOME(FI)RES BURNING—Baseball's mightiest trio of sluggers, the Braves' Eddie Mathews, Hank Aaron and Joe Adcock, went into the 1961 season with a combined total of 763 homers, with Mathews leading the way with 338 of the round-trippers. Three players still active will add to their all-time homer records for position this year. Mathews leads all third basemen with his total; Ernie Banks of the Cubs holds the homer mark for shortstops with 269 and Yogi Berra of the Yanks tops all catchers with 318 blasts. Stan Musial tops all actives with 429. (Central Press)

Final Little Loop Tryouts Slated if Weather Permits

Final Little League tryouts for all Circleville, Stoutsville and Kingston trading area and Pickaway County boys, ranging in age from 8 to 12 years, will be held at 5 p. m. today and 10 a. m. tomorrow, weather permitting.

All boys who desire to play in the baseball program are urged to register and tryout tonight or from 10 a. m. until noon tomorrow.

Youths failing to register and tryout still may participate in the summer program, but they will be assigned to a minor league squad, regardless of their ability, for at least one-half of the season.

Su Mac Lad Again Grabs Trot Laurels

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP)—Su Mac Lad of the United States is the world champion trotter as of today, but supporters of Italy's Tornese say wait until next week.

Su Mac Lad, a $35,000 bargain purchase in Chicago two years ago, won his fourth race in four 1961 starts Thursday night when he romped home half a length ahead of Tie Silk, from Canada. Tornese finished third in a field of eight invited to compete in the $50,000 United Nations mile and one-half trot at Yonkers Raceway.

There was an incident as the horses went into the backstretch for the final half mile. Masina, the French mare making her first start in the United States, bore over and the sulky wheels locked with the Italian horse's bike.

Su Mac Lad, who had taken the lead after the first half mile, had only one real challenge after that—Tie Silk. Masina never recovered, and finished last, but Tornese rallied quickly and got third.

The final race of the international series is the $50,000 National Championship Trot next Thursday night.

Su Mac Lad was timed in 3:10 4-5, and paid $5.40 as the favorite of a crowd of 30,029. He earned $25,800, and boosted his 1961 total to $82,800 and his career bankroll to $234,740.

OSU Relays Set For Saturday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State University offers its 19th relay carnival Saturday, with top-flight track and field stars from 22 colleges competing in the 20-event program.

Five Olympic entrants are in the field of about 600.

Schools entered include Baldwin-Wallace, Bowling Green, Butler, Capital, Chicago, Cincinnati Denison, Indiana Kentucky, Michigan Notre Dame, Michigan State, Miami, Ohio State, Ohio University, Pittsburgh, Purdue and Western Michigan. The Chicago, Detroit, Ohio and Milwaukee track clubs also will be represented.

Eight high schools and seven women's track-field clubs will participate in special races.

Chester Iery, Sunnyview Drive, player agent of the Babe Ruth League, has called a meeting of all seven Babe Ruth managers for 7:30 p. m. Sunday in the local National Guard Armory, 151 E. Franklin St. There will be a general discussion of the tryout routine, plus an outline of how the auction and player bidding will be conducted.

Baseball Game Is Postponed

Circleville High School's baseball game at Greenfield was postponed yesterday due to construction of a backdrop at the McClain diamond.

Coach Dick Fisher said the contest will be re-scheduled for May 2 at Greenfield. The Tigers are slated in a double-header tomorrow at Logan. The games were postponed last Saturday due to rain.

Pender Is Ready

BOSTON (AP)—Champion Paul Pender refuses to underestimate older Carmen Basilio in final preparations for their middle-weight title Saturday night.

The nationally televised ABC, 10 p. m. scheduled 15-pounder at Boston Garden offers a contrast in fistic styles between the clever boxing Pender making his second defense and the hard-hitting challenger appearing in his 11th championship test.

Pender's crown has geographical limits in recognition—Massachusetts, New York and Europe. But Pender, 30, from Brookline, Mass., expects to get nearly $80,000 as his share of an expected $100,000 gate plus $75,000 in video rights.

Giving away four years in age and five inches in reach, Basilio expects to reap about $50,000.

Cage Tourney End Is Sought

Elimination of county basketball tournaments was one of the subjects discussed at a recent meeting of the Central District Athletic Board.

A plan of substituting sectional tournaments within the district was considered by the group.

George Robinson, president of the board, conducted a poll of the counties in the District and reported that eight were in favor of the plan and two opposed.

A motion was passed to the effect that starting in 1963, the "A"

school county and non-county tournaments will be eliminated in the Central District.

According to district officials, the tournaments are to be replaced with sectional tournaments within the district starting in 1963.

Dean Pitches No-Hitter for Logan Elm

Dick Dean hurled a no-hitter for the Logan Elm Braves yesterday at Ted Lewis Park for a 3-1 win over Monroe in a Pickaway County Baseball Tournament test.

The Braves broke a 1-1 knot in the fourth inning with two runs to take the contest. The game was originally scheduled Monday on the Jackson diamond, but was postponed due to rain and snow earlier in the week.

Leading slugger for the Braves was Roger Clarke with two hits in two trips to the plate. Chuck Spangler collected the other hit for Logan Elm.

Dean quieted the Monroe bats by fanning 10 and walking two. Hunt pitched for Monroe, permitting three hits, whiffing 10 and walking two.

Logan Elm finished the tilt with two errors and Monroe had one bobbie.

Boxer Al Singer Dies at Age 51

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Singer, one of the colorful figures of a boxing era that produced Jack Starkey, Primo Carnera, Kid Chocolate, Young Stribling, Jimmy McLarnin, Tony Canzoneri and Maxie Rosenbloom, is dead at 51.

Singer, listed in the boxing record books as being two years older, died of a heart attack Thursday. He had been a salesman for the past four years.

Singer held the world lightweight championship for three months and 28 days in 1930—the shortest tenure ever for a lightweight champion. He won it by knocking out Sammy Mandell in the first round, July 17, 1930. He lost it to Canzoneri Nov. 14, also on a first round knockout. He was barely 21 when he lost the title.

Pinson Shows Signs of Shaking Slump

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Just about everyone but Vada Pinson on the Cincinnati Reds had been hitting well recently, but he got half their hits and scored their only run Thursday in a 2-1 loss at San Francisco.

The 22-year-old speedster is one of three or four Redleg untouchables when trade talk comes around, and the Reds will be mighty happy if he's shaken his slump.

Vada said recently, "For the most part this year I'm going to forget the home runs and go for the base hit."

However, his bunt single down the first base line in the fourth inning Thursday was his first hit in 17 consecutive trips to the plate.

The Reds didn't get a run until the ninth when Vada banged a double, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on Wally Post's sacrifice fly.

Other than that the Reds were stopped cold as Giant lefty Mike McCormick spun a four-hitter.

Jim O'Toole allowed the Giants only five hits but they picked up a run in the second inning and another in the third. That was all they needed.

O'Toole doled out a walk to Felipe Alou in the second and after Bob Schmidt singled, Alou scored on a forceout.

McCormick helped his own cause with a leadoff single in the third. Joe Amalfitano forced him, but Harvey Kuenn kept the action moving with a single and Amalfitano scored on a forceout.

The Reds, still in first place, moved on to Los Angeles where tonight they face the Dodgers. Jay Hook is scheduled to oppose LA's Sandy Koufax on the mound.

Golf Loop Deadline At PCC Set May 1

Deadline for joining the new Men's Golf league at the Pickaway Country Club is May 1. Pro Bob Bisciotti announced today.

Interested golfers not yet signed up are requested to contact Bisciotti or Ab Leach.

Competition is slated to start at the PCC links May 18. Eight teams are anticipated, Bisciotti said.

Mantle Sparks Yankees to Pair of Wins

Bronx Bombers Climb To Within Half-Game Of Leading Twins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The New York Yankees, led by Mickey Mantle, swept a double-header from the Los Angeles Angels 75 and 42 Thursday and surged into a second place tie with Detroit, a half game behind the American League leading Minnesota Twins.

The victories were the third and fourth in succession for the defending champions after they had lost their season's opener to the Twins. The Tigers also improved their record to four victories in five games, pounding out an 11-4 decision over the Cleveland Indians.

Early Wynn won his first game of the season and the 285th of his career as the Chicago White Sox defeated the Washington Senators 6-1. The other AL clubs were not scheduled.

Wynn received solid home run support from his White Sox mates. Among the 11 hits off loser Hal Woodeshick and two relievers were fourbaggers by Roy Sievers, Jim Landis and Al Smith. Early was tagged for nine hits.

Mickey Mantle was nearly the entire show in Yankee Stadium where the defending champions increased their victory string to four. The slugging center fielder drove in five runs in the Yankees opener, hitting his second and third home runs of the season.

Righthanders Art Ditmar and Bob Turley were the winning pitchers but both needed late inning help. Turley walked nine in 7 2-3 innings of the nightcap before giving way to Luis Arroyo. Eli Grba and Ned Garver were the losers. Former Yankee utility outfielder Ken Hunt hit two doubles, a triple and a homer for the Angels, who lost the services of third baseman Eddie Yost with a hairline fracture of the middle finger.

The Tigers jumped on Cleveland's Gary Bell for four runs in the first inning, featured by Rocky Colavito's double, and added three more in the fifth on Norm Cash's home run with two on. Frank Lary pitched his second victory while Bell went down to his second defeat.

Charlie Dressen has a tendency to pop off but even his detractors admit he usually knows what he's talking about.

The outspoken Milwaukee manager has maintained all his Braves need to win the pennant is a strong bullpen. He blames last year's failure to win the flag on the flop of relief pitcher Don McMahon.

Dressen's claim received strong support Thursday night when the Braves overcame a 6-1 deficit with five runs in the ninth inning and one in the 11th to nip the Philadelphia Phillies 7-6.

After starter Lew Burdette was rocked for 10 hits in 4 2-3 innings, the Phillies to just six hits. Ron Piche picked up the victory.

St. Louis and San Francisco climbed into a three-way tie with Pittsburgh for second place, one half game behind the National League leading Cincinnati Reds.

The Cards thumped the Los Angeles Dodgers 11-2 and the Giants whipped the Reds 2-1. Chicago's Cubs shut out the Pirates 30.

Detroit beat Cincinnati 11 times in 13 National Basketball Association games last season.

Lake St. Marys Squirrel May Require Wings or Fins

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — That amphibious mother fox squirrel has done it again and unless her youngsters are of the Petauristidae family they are in trouble. (The Petauristidae are flying squirrels.)

Up at Grand Lake St. Marys, for the second straight year, the mama fox has taken up residence in a wood duck box located 20 feet off shore and atop a steel post.

Just why she decided to raise her family in such a hard-to-get-to spot is known only to the mother squirrel.

Roger McElroy, Division of Game Management supervisor, who reported the incident, said:

"Maybe she just likes to swim, because to get to the box she must swim 20 feet and then climb the steel post, which is surrounded by water. All four-legged animals can swim when forced to do so, but there are numerous den trees on land sites in the area.

"What a surprise those young squirrels are going to get the first time they peek out of the duck box."

Oxbow Lake, the 40-acre spot in Defiance County, was an outstanding fishing place during the winter. Darrell Allison of the Fish Management Division said almost 300 northern pike up to 32 inches long were taken there. Since 1954 the lake has been stocked with northern fingerlings—no adult fish. In addition to the northerns, anglers picked up bluegills and bass during the cold months.

The Wildlife Council is about to issue an order making it unlawful to stock fish of any kind, or even dump your minnow pail in public waters, without approval of the chief of the Division of Wildlife.

It all stems from a recent incident at the Killdeer Plains Wild-

Ohio Fishing Prospects Are Generally Poor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The weekend prospects for Ohio fishermen as detailed by the Division of Wildlife:

NORTHWESTERN—Lakes and streams in this area generally in poor condition. If no additional rains forthcoming, some waters could clear sufficiently by Saturday or Sunday to furnish some fishing.

EAST CENTRAL AND SOUTH-EASTERN — Lake fishing seems to hold best promise, especially Hope, Alma, Clendenning, Tappan. Fishing has been reported fair at these lakes with bass, bluegills, crappies the main species being taken. Most other waters roily or muddy.

CENTRAL AND SOUTHERN — Muddy and high is the story from most lakes and streams. Buckeye and Jackson lakes clear in some areas although fishing below par. Some streams clearing slightly.

SOUTHWESTERN—No fish taken—Fishing pressure low. Indian and Kiser lakes seem to offer best possibility. A few trout being taken from Mad River, Champaign County.

LAKE ERIE AND SANDUSKY BAY — All streams in Sandusky Bay area high and roily. A few walleyes being taken in Sandusky River. Crappies, perch, bullheads reported from Sandusky Bay. Some perch being caught at East Harbor and Put-In-Bay.

life Area in Wyandot County, where thousands of small black bullheads and perch have been test-netted from a 12-acre lake. Neither species has been stocked there by the state.

John Reis, fish management agent, said origin of the bullheads was unknown, but that the perch had been placed in the pond by a local fisherman who brought them from Lake Erie.

"He didn't know what he was doing or didn't care," Reis said.

"We know perch will not grow to any size in such waters. They'll multiply, but remain small. We can't net all of them, and sometimes in such cases it's necessary to drain such a pond and start all over."

Up around Port Clinton spring perch fishing has picked up right where ice fishing left off—with good strings of perch being taken. The perch are running eight inches or better, and being caught on minnows.

Last year a pair of eagles built their aerie at Resthove Wildlife Area in Erie County and raised one or two youngsters.

The same pair returned this year, found their nest had been taken over by two great horned owls. So the American eagles, nesting pairs of which are rare in Ohio, moved on and built their new home on the northern edge of Sadusky County.

Loop Keglers Get Awards

An awards program highlighted the annual banquet of the Wednesday Matinee Ladies bowling league this week at the Pickaway Country Club. The loop recently finished its season at Circle D.

The first place trophy went to Steele's produce and the individual high average award was earned by Biddy Moorehead.

The top award was presented to sponsor Dwight Steele. He in turn presented each member of his team with a sterling bowling charm.

Pauline Hanson was given recognition as the most improved bowler of the league.

An election of officers for the coming season was held. Elected were: Vera Bartz, president; Jane Plum, vice president; Catherine Reynolds, secretary; Betty Boldoser, treasurer; and Fran Chelkowsky, sergeant-at-arms.

Hank Aaron of Milwaukee stole 16 bases in 23 attempts last season.

DETROIT — American Motors' new Rambler American convertible is now being introduced at Yates Motor Co., Local Rambler Dealer.

The new Custom two-door model, the industry's lowest-priced convertible, carries a suggested advertised delivered price of $2,369, which is $478 to $598 below the lowest-priced convertibles of Ford, Chevrolet and Plymouth, according to Roy Abernethy, executive vice-president of American Motors.

Built on a 100-inch wheelbase, the sporty Rambler American convertible is only 173.1 inches long and 70 inches wide.

Its six-cylinder overhead-valve engine has a rating of 125 horsepower. Regular-grade gasoline is recommended.

The convertible has an electric-hydraulic powered top in black or white fabric coated with vinyl for long life. The top folds down into a deep well to provide an unbroken body line.

A unique feature of the American convertible is the use of plastic garnish moldings along the tops of the doors. Plastic retains much less heat than metal so the drivers and passengers will find it more comfortable to rest their arms on the window sills in the summer, Abernethy said.

A total of 27 interior trim combinations are available, including nine colors of solid pleated vinyl designed especially for the convertible. The other 18 combinations include fabric with vinyl trims and porous "breathable" vinyl.

The convertible is built with AM's all-welded single-unit construction for added strength and freedom from squeaks and rattles. Special supporting structures are incorporated in the convertible's underbody to give this model the structural strength of a sedan, Abernethy said. Like all Ramblers, the convertible body is dipped in a rust-preventing primer before the finish super enamel is applied.

The convertible also has AM's exclusive ceramic-coated muffler and tailpipe system, guaranteed to the original owner for the life of the car.

Ohio Industry 'Flight' Has Solon Worried

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A state senator has asked Ohio's Department of Industrial and Economic Development to account for what he termed "the flight of industry" from Ohio.

Sen. William H. Deddens, R-Hamilton, wrote a letter to department director Koder M. Collision saying he was "horrified" to learn that three companies are moving from Ohio and that two others have shut down.

Deddens, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee listed the Eaton Manufacturing Co., Massillon, as moving to North Carolina, displacing about 700 workers; the Gird Cord Rubber Co., Lima, moving to Arkansas, displacing 200, and the Hoover Ball and Bearing Co., Bedford, moving to a southern state.

(Eaton Wednesday delayed moving its Reliance division south by signing a one-year contract with union locals who agreed to reduction in fringe benefits.)

The Cincinnati senator added that Swift & Co. is closing down its Cleveland packing plant, and he has been informed the Fisher plant at Norwalk is leaving the state.

Deddens wrote Collision, "I would like to know if you have any explanation to offer as to why these industries are leaving the state. What have you done up to this time to prevent plants from carrying out their intentions to leave Ohio?"

He said that Collision's department must have some program to prevent "future repetition of the flight of industry from the state" such as Deddens cited.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A state senator has asked Ohio's Department of Industrial and Economic Development to account for what he termed "the flight of industry" from Ohio.

Special Shows Booked on TV

Next 7 Days Slated For Spectaculars

NEW YORK (AP)—A variety of special programs will enliven the television screen during the next seven days.

Tonight, for example, there is CBS' "Million Dollar Incident," starring Jackie Gleason (8:30-10 Eastern Standard Time). It's about a whimsical kidnaper who snatches Gleason for ransom.

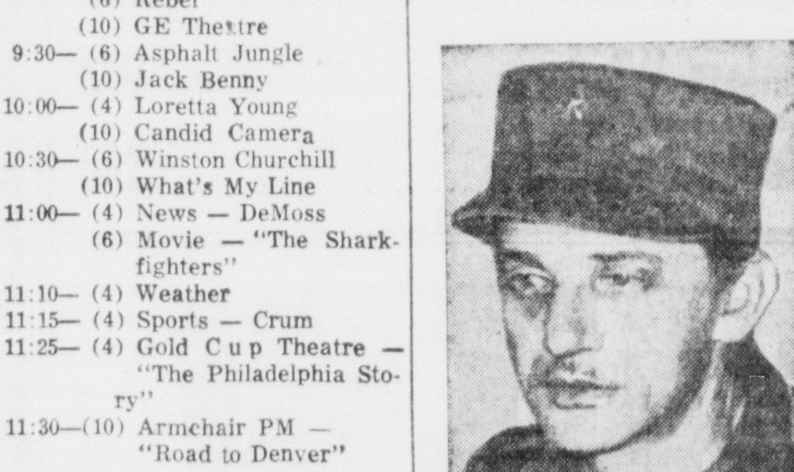

Saturday there is another in the American Heritage series, "Gentleman's Decision," (NBC, 9:30-10 p.m.) which is built around Gen. Robert E. Lee's surrender.

Sunday's most promising entertainment feature is "The Happiest Day," a musical comedy occupying Dinah Shore's usual spot (NBC, 9-10 p.m.) and featuring Craig Stevens, Wally Cox, Janis Paige and Jack Carson.

"Concentration," NBC's daytime audience participation, will make another attempt to get on the evening air Monday (9:30-10)—it's premiere was postponed this week to make room for a news program on Cuba.

Dean Martin will play host on another musical variety hour Tuesday night (NBC, 10-11) with guests Andy Griffith, Tony Martin and Tina Louise.

On Thursday night, CBS' weekly sports "Spectacular" moves into a new spot (7:30-8:30). In addition there is another edition of CBS' "Family Classics," (9-10), an adaptation of Charlotte Bronte's "Jane Eyre."

themselves to such problems as Laos, Viet Nam, internal subversion and "the desperate life lived by so many people in this hemisphere and so many other places which the Communists exploit."

He said this when asked his opinion of the John Birch Society, a militantly conservative group. Kennedy said he did not believe the society's judgments are based on accurate information about the real challenges. Nor, he said, did he believe the society "is wrestling with the real problems" created by communism.

For example, Kennedy said, Red guerrillas are killing 4,000 civil and police officers in Viet Nam each year. This, he said, is the kind of problem "which is going to be with us all through this decade."

He suggested the nation concern itself with that kind of threat rather than with the loyalty of former Presidents Dwight E. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt or himself.

Robert H. Welch, founder of the Birch Society, has been quoted as questioning the loyalty of a number of people at the top of the government in recent years.

On the same topic, Kennedy said that at his request Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara ordered the investigation of allegations that Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker encouraged distribution of Birch Society material among troops of his command in Europe.

Kennedy said he personally would review the outcome of the investigation. The Army announced Monday that Walker had been relieved of command of the 24th Infantry Division in Germany pending outcome of the inquiry. Walker denied that the information program he set up among his troops was related to any society.

TAXES—Kennedy said he anticipates a hard fight to get his tax proposals through Congress. Kennedy submitted his tax program Thursday.

While recommending tax credits to stimulate new industry and therefore employment, he said he recognized there would be opposition to his simultaneous proposal that lost revenues be made up through tightening controls over expense accounts and dividend income.

ECONOMY—Kennedy said the mid-April review of the economy.

Health Workshop Slated in Ross

Dr. Herbert Whanger, Director of the Southeastern Ohio Guidance Center, Athens, Dr. Frank Hamlin, Dean of the College of Education, Ohio University, and Dr. Henry Luidens, commissioner of the Division of Mental Hygiene, will be speakers at the morning session of the Ross County Mental Health Association workshop April 29, in Chillicothe.

The workshop is open to the public, with particular interest to parents, teachers, doctors, lawyers, and ministers. Announcements have been mailed to interested persons in Pickaway, Adams, Clinton, Fayette, Highland, Hocking, Jackson, Pike, Ross, Scioto and Vinton Counties.

which he had previously promised in order to determine whether new steps were required to stimulate business, is now underway. He withheld any opinion until that survey is completed.

The President said he was glad Republicans in Congress planned a study of automation and technological improvements in agriculture and industry.

But he also noted a House subcommittee already had been at work on that subject which he described as a "genuine national problem."

LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM — Asked how he would evaluate the progress of his domestic program in Congress, Kennedy said he was encouraged by overwhelming passage in the Senate of his bill to raise the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour. He also took hope from action on aid to dependent children and on broadening Social Security benefits.

Girls, Not Churches, To Keep 'Philomena'

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Roman Catholic girls named after Philomena can keep the name of the "martyr virgin" which has been stricken from the roll of the church's saints.

But Catholic churches named for her—and there are a number in the United States—must be renamed as a result of the action this week by the Sacred Congregation of Rites.

Philomena was never formally canonized but because of popular fervor she came to be venerated as a martyr and a saint.

The Congregation of Rites decided Philomena had been venerated in error.

16,000 Checks OK'd On Idle Pay Claims

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—More than 16,000 checks totaling in excess of $700,000 have been mailed in two days to unemployed Ohioans qualifying for federal jobless extension payments. Administrator Donald B. Leach of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation said Thursday that the BUC had received 51,634 applications from Ohioans who are unemployed and have exhausted state benefits since June 30, 1960.

Leach said the majority of applications were from Cleveland, Cincinnati, Youngstown, Akron and Warren. He added that the areas least heavily hit by lingering unemployment judging from first week applications were Sidney, Greenville, Bowling Green, Wauseon, East Liverpool and Wooster.

Mexican Gains Star's Stature

Beautiful Actress Back in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A year and a half ago, Pina Pellicer arrived in Hollywood beautiful and unknown.

This week she was back again, still beautiful but now a star.

The transformation was caused by an erratic creator named Marlon Brando, who molded her untalented talent into maturity in her first film, "One-Eyed Jacks."

The Mexican actress was here for the Academy awards, as part of the delegation representing "Macario," contender for best foreign language film. It lost to Sweden's "The Virgin Spring," but that didn't dampen the thrill of Pina's return. She is enjoying plaudits for her work in the Brando film.

"I saw it for the first time this morning," she said. "I think it is wonderful, and all the credit must go to Marlon's direction. Think what he did. Besides himself, only Karl Malden and Katy Jurado were experienced performers. He had to help the rest of us along."

Pina came into the Brando world unprepared. Her English was scant, her experience sparse. She had gotten interested in Little Theater work while at the University of Mexico and had performed in only six plays in Mexico City. One was "The Diary of Anne Frank." She did an excerpt from the play on television and this helped bring her to the attention of producer Frank Rosenberg, seeking a co-star for Brando.

She was tested and then brought to Hollywood to meet Brando. She exhibited the fire he was seeking, and got the job.

Pilot Turns to Ministry After 30-Year Air Career

DUNSMUIR, Calif. (AP)—From Air Force pilot to God's copilot was a difficult switch, the Rev. Boardman Reed of St. Barnabas Episcopal Church here says. He became a minister after a 30-year flying career.

Neither the church nor his associates seriously accepted his determination to relinquish his rank as an Air Force Lieutenant Colonel to study for the ministry in 1955.

Father Reed explains that his background was Episcopalian but that there was no particular emphasis on religion in his youth. He first felt the personal impact of the Christian message through association with a group of dedicated engineers at North American Aviation in Los Angeles in 1948. He began to feel closer to the priesthood later on, when he saw missionary work in Japan. Stationed near Sacramento, Calif., after Korean hostilities ceased, he expressed his groping hopes to Bishop Noel Porter of the Episcopal diocese of Sacramento.

Bishop Porter outlined a program of study and prayer. Father Reed pushed on with applications to various seminaries. Most replies were discouraging, and the Air Force routinely rejected his request to quit active duty. An application to the Anglican Theological College in Vancouver,

British Columbia, finally was accepted and the Air Force relented. Now 47, Father Reed was born in Pasadena, Calif., and attended school there, including Pasadena Junior College.

He served in World War II and returned to Air Force duty during the Korean War, switching from bombers to fighter planes.

"People are prone to associate my choice to become a minister with my war experiences," Father Reed says.

It was not the horror of combat that led him to seek God, he explains, but the evaluation of life in the interim between wars.

"Perhaps my grandfather's example gave me courage," he explains. The first Boardman Reed, a Civil War veteran, left a career as editor of a Philadelphia weekly paper in his 40s to become a physician.

Perrill New Postmaster

Gordon A. Perrill has received a permanent appointment as U. S. Postmaster of Ashville.

Perrill replaces Oran L. Hines who has served on a temporary basis for the last two years.

Perrill, recommended by the Democratic Central Committee of Pickaway County, assumed his duties following a recent appointment by Senator Stephen Young.

Cincy Public School Buses Told Not To Aid Catholics

CINCINNATI (AP) — Parochial school officials are still estimating the changes expected in the wake of a legal ruling that public school buses in Hamilton County are for public school pupils only.

County Prosecutor C. Watson Hover, in a ruling Thursday, held that boards of education will need specific authority by the state legislature to transport private school pupils in public-school buses.

The Rt. Rev. Carl Ryan, superintendent of Parochial schools in the Cincinnati Roman Catholic Archdiocese, said Thursday night he had no figures on school bus use, since pastors of each school make bus arrangements.

However, a spokesman in the Forest Hills School District said about 500 students at parochial schools have been riding Forest Hills buses to a high school and two elementary schools.

In the Southwest District, a spokesman said an estimated 300 pupils were transported by public school buses.

Officials of some other schools decline comment.

Hover's ruling came at request of the Sycamore School District, whose superintendent, Edwin Greene, said:

"We had been requested to furnish transportation to some parochial school students. There was some question in our minds as to how legal it was and we submitted the request for a ruling last fall."

Msgr. Ryan said he understood Ohio law neither forbids nor permits use of public school buses by pupils of private or parochial schools.

Prosecutor Hover agreed, but said he believed "boards of education are limited in the exercise of their powers to such as are clearly and distinctly granted by the legislature and cannot confer upon themselves further jurisdiction or authority."

Hover noted there had been a contrary ruling by the prosecutor in Cuyahoga County who held that free transport of parochial school students on public school buses would not constitute financial aid to private schools.

Hover said also the U.S. Supreme Court ruled in a New Jersey case that public school buses could transport parochial school pupils, but said it was based on a New Jersey state law which empowers boards of education to act.
